Standard:

Throughout this manual, dimensions and distances are provided in the International System of Units, and their English units are shown in parenthesis. The International System of Units values are a “soft” conversion of the English System of Units values. All minimum and maximum values noted in a Standard shall be construed as referring to the English System of Units.

87a. Typical – Refers to general examples of the conditions being considered. All Figures, Tables, Illustrations and Applications are considered “Typical”, unless specifically denoted in a Standard that the Figure, Table, Illustration or Application is a part of the Standard. Typical Figures, Tables, Illustrations and Applications designate situations for normal conditions and shall not be construed as a Standard. All minimum and maximum dimensions, or distances, and locations are for normal conditions and can be varied if there are physical constraints, or local preferences complying with the standards of this manual, which require a modification to the normal conditions.
